

Louisiana Conference.

Concerning the work in that field, Elders Wm. S. Berrett and Hyrum Hansen write as follows, from Point, Louisiana, May 18:

The Elders of the Louisiana conference held their semi-annual conference, May 14 and 15 at Rugg Bluff, Union parish, Louisiana, where we have a number of Saints and a flourishing Sunday school. All of the Elders of the conference were present, and the presence of our president, Elder James G. Duffin, was greatly enjoyed. Four public meetings were held which were well attended. Two Priesthood meetings were held. Elder Wm. S. Berrett was sustained as president of the conference, with Elder Hyrum Hanson as counselor and as conference s[uper]intendent of Sunday schools. The Elders met again Friday morning and received their assignments. The Elders will long remember the event, and the good people of [R]ugg Bluff neighborhood for the kindness they made manifest in their behalf.

The most memorable event that took place was the joining together in the holy bonds of wedlock of Mr. I. P. Simmons, aged 75, and his step daughter, Lizzie Foster, aged 27; also George M. Carter and Sarah Jane Ellis, aged 60 and 40.

The "News" is a welcome visitor and a faithful missionary.
